

UNITED NORTH V UNITED SOUTH AT FARTOWN, 13 JULY 1876

11 from the north, 11 from the South
When they came on the pitch the crowd made no sound
Then the game started with a big massive roar Look at the North they just scored a four A four, a six, one run or two Don't ask me who is winning because I don't have a clue

The play gets intense as we reach midday
You can tell the players are beginning to flay
W.G. Grace bowls out another batter Then Lockwood steps up and the balls start to scatter

When he gets his century nothing really matters
You can hear the North's teeth start to chatter

W. G. Grace

The North think they have it but they are mistaken

W.G Grace bowls out another and the South are awakened

Hooray for the South, hooray for the North A magnificent game, who would have thought
The game is over, the North have won A good day of cricket, lots of family fun

South win by 103

And they come off the pitch with pride and glee We have just witnessed that game called cricket.

Lets go home for tea and wickets
