

It seems the villagers have contrived a very full good-time programme for themselves. Although the Boot and Shoe pub — pronounced, incidentally, "Booit and Shoe" — is the main social centre, the thriving St George's WMC stands but a stagger away.

Despite a troubled history, the club is now booming, and this year celebrates a joint centenary with the local cricket club.