

MAKING MONEY FOR THE CLUB

Margaret Whippey on the women at Triangle CC

We've got some very committed women at Triangle – people like Brenda Fletcher, Frances Turner, Jean Gledhill, Anita Dewhirst, and myself.

We meet as a women's committee and if there's any relevant business a representative from our group will attend the main club committee meeting. I'm at the main meeting anyway as club secretary.

As a group we make money for the club doing teas on matchdays. We get lots of help and we try to spread the jobs around.

We make on average £3,000 a year and plough it back into the club – recently, for example, we've refitted the kitchen and tea hut and bought some new curtains.

We also serve drinks at junior matches – and sometimes make £35 or £40 on these nights. And that's on the back of not putting our prices up during the last two years.
