FOREWORD

Ladies and Gentlemen,

On Saturday, June 30th, 1951 the Carnival is to take place in a Field at Tandem (kindly lent by Mr. J. A. Matthews).

The organization of the Carnival has been carried out by a committee of enthusiastic workers. The programme arranged should appeal to both young and old. New attractions both before and on Carnival day should prove very popular and create much amusement.

Buy your programme early and look for the lucky number

Come in crowds, a fine day, plenty of money and a successful day is sure to be ours.

The Committee.

RULES

1. To minimize any congestion of traffic along the route of the Procession, the public would greatly assist the Committee and the Police by not congregating across the road before the Procession starts at any point en route.
2. The Carnival Committee will take every precaution to prevent accidents and loss of property to all visitors, artists and Competitors, but will not be responsible for any accidents or loss that may occur to artists, competitors, or general public. A person entering such Carnival shall by such act be deemed as having agreed with the Carnival Committee to this effect.
3. The Committee reserve to themselves the right to alter any prize, or decline any entry they may consider undesirable.
4. His Majesty's Uniform must not be used in the procession.

WARNING

The Committee particularly desire that the General Public should enter the field by the Entrance Gates.

Offenders are likely to be severely dealt with.
