

ALL FOR CHARITY

Pendragon Charity Cricket Day
Monday 4th May 2009
10.00am onwards – Holmfirth Cricket Ground

By Sam Hollis

Holmfirth CC will host a day of entertaining cricket - all to raise money for MacMillan Cancer Support. Six teams will battle it out in short matches for the prestigious Pendragon Cup. There will be stalls and games for all the family, and food and refreshments served all day, so come along and enjoy the fun!

The clubhouse has seen some major redevelopments since the end of last season, which has seen the downstairs layout redesigned to make better use of the space while the large shower area has been divided into two shower units - one for home and one for away teams.

In addition to this, both dressing rooms have been redecorated and a new boiler has been installed to give more hot water for the showers, and to help upstairs heating. Holmfirth is developing and improving and we need your support!

Grant applications have been made to Kirklees, and should we be successful we will be able to commence with phase two of the development project - the moving of the away dressing room into the area where the old showers were.

Then the tea room will be moved from upstairs into the space freed up. This charity day (weather permitting!) will showcase these improvements but also aims to be a tremendously fun day in support of a good cause.

The MacMillan Cancer Support helps the lives of those who are affected by cancer and provide practical, medical, emotional and financial support and push for better cancer care. It's a charity which Holmfirth supports hugely. The annual Holmfirth Artweek is an event which showcases the talents of local artists, while also raising money for the Macmillan Cancer Support.

It promises to be a great day, with a competitive tournament at its heart – we hope you can come down and support your local team!
