

BARBARA'S CHAIR!

Chris McEnhill on club people

Geoff Barnard has been a key man at the club. He's worked enormously hard and secured some funding for the junior section.

We also have a very famous female spectator: Barbara Kirkman. She and her husband never miss a game.

Barbara is 80 and is very active. She helps with teas and sits in front of the pavilion in an amazing contraption – I think it's a lounge which also has a roof to keep the rain out!

She also has powerful lungs. I remember Kirkburton playing Chickenley in one competition and the Chickenley secretary saw Barbara doing her rounds as raffle ticket-seller. He asked whether Barbara was available for transfer! The first multi-million pound raffle ticket seller perhaps!
