

CAKES AND PASTIES

Michelle Oates on savouries and sweets

A typical Warley tea consists of a teacake sandwich and a cake. We also do some small savoury items such as Cornish pasties and sausage rolls.

Space is a bit of an issue here so we put all the food on big trays in the tea room and send them across to the changing rooms.

The tea room here is small – there's no big clubhouse to work in. The kitchen is good. Compared to what we had to work with a couple of decades ago, they're positively palatial!

I suppose we've got everything we need, but some things we are limited in.
