

TUNA AND TODMORDEN

Sheila Pettengell on sandwiches and cakes

Over the last 30 years our sandwich fillings have stayed pretty much the same: cheese, ham, tuna and salad.

We buy the bread for the sandwiches on the Friday evening. The ham we get from a butcher in Todmorden, who delivers it just the way we want it, and the cans of coke come from the local post office.

Some of the cakes we make and others we buy in. We have coconut cake, coffee cake and fruit cake. Various – they're not always the same!
