

GOOD RELATIONSHIP

Sheila Pettengell on village life

The kitchen here is fine. We looked at the plans when it was being built so we knew what it was going to be like. That said, I suppose we could do with a little more room and a few more shelves.

We have a good relationship with the players. They appreciate what we do and always say thank you.

I'm also involved at the Methodist church in the village. I help with the catering there as well. Old Town is a nice village. I've lived all my life here. The weather can get a bit wild but you get used to the extremes up here.
