Betty Whittaker (below) on being membership secretary

I'm membership secretary at the club. My husband Brian played here so that's how I got involved.

He started playing as a young boy and only finished in his 50s. I think the highlight of his career was 1963 when he won the outstanding player of the year award.

I've been doing this job for a long time now. So long that I know everyone at the club personally. This means I can phone people when they're ill and see how they're doing.
