

ROOM WITH A VIEW

Susan Whitehead on Centre Vale facilities

In the tea room we're all volunteers. We don't charge a penny for the ingredients we buy and use.

We enjoy having our own separate building for teas. We have a good view but we don't necessarily see much of the cricket as we're working on the teas.

But we always like to sit out and watch the last few overs at the end of the day. My tea lady colleague Valerie is slowly learning the rules of the game – she doesn't know the difference between a four and six yet!
