

SMALL AND SUCCESSFUL

Trevor Crosland on the club's ambition

We played in the Huddersfield Association – we were a good club and won lots of trophies but we were small.

We were always looking to the future, though. We set up junior teams and today we have 30 or 40 kids here on a Friday night. New houses have been built in the area – which has helped.

The club eventually decided to join the Halifax League. The thinking was that we were closer to the Halifax than the Huddersfield clubs. Blackley, for instance, was just a few hundred yards away.
