

TIME AND EXPERTISE

Alan Hampshire on the new pavilion

The new pavilion was opened in 1999. We did a lot of the fundraising ourselves – with many members giving their time and expertise for free. We had a plumber, joiner and electrician at the club. We dug trenches to enable the water supply – it was like a military campaign!

The new pavilion was built on the site of the old wooden pavilion, which had been built to Lol Briggs.

It was decided that the club's pavilion (old and new versions) should be sited on the higher side of the ground because of the vantage point and views on offer. This outweighed all other arguments.
