

that people are bothered about is for talking about them taking their clothes off!"

Jodie is full of admiration for co-star Peter O'Toole, tipped to win an Oscar for his performance in the film.

"He's an amazing man and he absolutely deserves all the praise he has been getting.

"He is just a genius and I learned so much from him.

"And he loves Yorkshire and has spent a bit of time there.

"My mum made him a parkin cake and my dad, who used to play cricket for Clayton West, had him bowling in his dressing room!

Jodie, who is now based in London, graduated from prestigious Guildhall drama school last year.

She appeared in several stage productions, including Tim Carroll's The Storm at The Globe, and on the small screen in the BBC programme Doctors.

She said: "I always wanted to be an actress, and from the age of five I was using it as an excuse not to do my homework!

"I went to Shelley High School
