

A horse-drawn grass cutter on the Cricket Field, about 1908.

The horse's hooves are covered with leather pads to protect the turf. It was not unusual, between October and February, to see sheep grazing on the cricket ground.