COUNTY PLAYERS AT TODMORDEN.

CRICKETERS HELP MILITARY HOSPITAL.

The day being beautifully fine, a large crowd flocked to the Centre Vale enclosure last Tuesday to witness the test-level-side match, Todmorden v. Walsden, for the benefit of the Military Hospital at Centre Vale.

Excepting Rhodes, the county men did not shine much, although it should be mentioned that Field had never no-balls. Their bowling was not brilliant, but they gave their services, and thereby materially aided the object in view, for which we are much indebted to them.

As for the game itself, apart from the little diversion afforded by Shackleton's wital wicket smashing, it was a tame and lifeless affair.

Todmorden won the toss and started with Shackleton and Marshall, the bowlers being Field and Ormerod. There was nothing to arouse about the early stages of the game, runs being a very scarce commodity.

In fact, 10 overs were completed ere the first run was hit, and the score stood 0-0 when the first one back to Field, which the county men made a big but ineffective effort to secure.

Field, in his first over, Marshall, lipped yards out, and ought to have been stumped; and in his second, Shackleton made a beauty of a hit which sent the ball crashing through one of the windows of the adjoining school.

Shackleton was then when he hit one back to Field, which the county men made a big but ineffective effort to secure. Rhodes and a turn with the ball at 25 in the first over.

The "gate" realised about £30, which, together with the tickets sold previously, made a total of about £45.

During the interval, the donkey which had been loaned by Mr. W. E. Hartley, 3, Broadstone Street, in the competition previously referred to in our columns, was put up for auction for the benefit of the hospital by Mr. John Milton, the local auctioneer, and when the bidding had reached £2 18s., the animal was knocked down to Mr. Albert Jackson, of the Foundry, Lpa.

The Todmorden team appear to have fallen to pieces all at once. After a very successful start, extending from June 22 to August 1, during which period out of 12 matches they won seven and drew five, winning five in succession, they have now in the last three weeks lost three in succession, and at Accrington and East Lancashire again won on Saturday, and Todmorden owed Church to last them again.
