ALEC LOCKWOOD, who led Broad Oak to the Section "B" title when the Huddersfield Cricket League was split into two divisions in 1932, has died aged 74.

Mr Lockwood had also helped them win the Sykes Cup in the previous year when he scored 74 of their 407 against Meltham. He also scored one of the quickest centuries in the league with a 60-minute 100 against Honley in 1934. He went on to score 131 not out, including 26 fours, out of 208 in 93 minutes. Mr Lockwood was also a golfer at Crossland Heath Golf Club.
